

Song of the Salvation Army – 2

The Freethought Band
Parody Lyrics by:
Jerry Rauser and Leah Rettke
12/30/2012

Verse 1 (All sing, traditional)

We're coming, we're coming - - -

Chorus (All and audience sing-along)

Verse 2 (Jodin)

We do not drink coffee, like Humanists do.
They drink it at meetings, Dinner Dialogs too.
And even at banquets right after the meal.
Then, they talk evolution, as if it were real.

Chorus

Verse 3 (Jerry)

We do not drink decaf, that strange witches' brew.
It's just plain brown water, so what does it do?
Those Atheists like it, it gives them relief, from
Existentialist angst, caused by no god belief.

Chorus

Verse 4 (Leah)

We do not eat sweet tarts, they fill us with joy.
That might lead to touching, between girl and boy.
Hands, they might linger, skin they might bare.
But with Jesus always watching, it's a three way affair.

Chorus

Verse 5 (All sing)

We do not like science, and Darwin's the worst.
He said we're all monkeys. If so, we'd be cursed.
There'd be no Jesus, or gifts that god grants.
We would all be Freethinkers, just primates in pants.

Chorus
